Privacy Policy

We do not collect any personal information unless you provide it to us on a voluntary basis. We collect the information that you provide – your name, address, telephone number, and/or email address via our donation form, balance payment form, volunteering forms, etc.

How We Use Information

The Bodhgaya Development Association uses personal information collected on our site to update you about our services and news, to provide you with information that you request, and/or to improve our service offerings. If we would like to share your information with other companies or individuals in the future, we will obtain your express consent prior to sharing. We may disclose your personal information as needed if such information is requested by law.

How We Protect Information

We take reasonable security measures to protect your information from unauthorized access to or unauthorized disclosure or destruction of data. We do not sell or lease your information to other companies or individuals without your permission. We may use IP addresses to protect the security and integrity of our site, to help troubleshoot and diagnose problems with our server, and to assist in the administration of our website. All financial transactions are managed by third party providers and the BDA has no access to your personal banking information.
